

Defining Luxury ! Redefining Class !!

Tenali is a city and a municipality in Guntur district of Andhra Pradesh, India. It is famous for its culture and is also known as Andhra Paris, for its rich history, culture, literature and agriculture. It is located 25 km east of Guntur City and 33 km south of Vijayawada. "Three canals of the Krishna River which flows through Tenali, making it a part of the rice bowl of Andhra Pradesh".

Tenali is of great historic importance. The relics from the excavations of the Archaeology Society of India in Tenali vicinity indicate that it has the roots of Jainism and Buddhism. The Archaeological monuments revealed that the village 'Teravali' gradually became Tenali and it is also reputed for devotees, intellectuals, orators, artists and educationalists from ancient days. The earliest accounts of the country tell that, this region formed part of the famous kingdom of "Andhra-Satavahana" dynasty from 225 B.C. to 225 A.D. Subsequently, the region was under the rule of the various dynasties for various periods.

Tenali is located in the coastal region of the state, about 30 km from Bay of Bengal. This is the second largest town in Guntur district. Tenali is the third largest urban cluster in the AP CRDA region next to Vijayawada and Guntur. The Krishna main canal (Buckingham canal) along with two parallel irrigation canals passes through the town.
